Strategy Focus

As you read, think of questions you have about the foods in a bakery.

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN

BOSTON

Key Vocabulary

bakery a place where foods such as bread, cakes, and cookies are made and sold culture customs shared by a group of people

customer a person who buys things at a store

dough a soft, thick mixture that is baked ingredients parts of a mixture

recipe a set of directions for cooking

Word Teaser

For directions to go someplace, read a map. For directions to cook something, read a _____.

What will you find at a bakery?

You will find muffins, desserts,
and many kinds of bread there.

A baker makes all the bread at the bakery.

Crusty Bread

2½ cups warm water or milk
2 tablespoons dry yeast
8 cups flour
1 tablespoon salt

The baker has a recipe that tells how to make the bread.

The baker mixes the ingredients.
The ingredients for this bread are flour, water or milk, salt, and yeast.

All the ingredients are mixed to make dough. Bakers knead the dough by pushing it with their hands.

The dough sits for a while. The yeast in it makes it puff up and get soft.

Then, the baker bakes the bread.

A woman with brown hair tied back, wearing glasses and a white apron over a light-colored sweater, is working behind a bakery counter. She is using a pair of tongs to serve bread. In front of her, a male customer with dark curly hair and glasses, wearing a brown jacket over a blue shirt, is pointing at a basket of bread. He is also holding a white disposable coffee cup. The counter is filled with several woven baskets containing various types of bread, including round loaves and smaller rolls. The background shows a typical bakery interior with shelves and equipment.

All the bread is baked. A customer is happy to buy some.

A still life photograph featuring a variety of breads. A large, light-colored wicker basket is filled with several long, golden-brown baguettes. Some baguettes are whole, while others are sliced, revealing a soft, porous interior. In the foreground, on a wooden surface, there are more breads, including a round loaf and several smaller rolls. A clear glass butter dish with a silver lid is also visible. The lighting is warm and focused, highlighting the textures of the bread and the weave of the basket.

You can find bread from different countries and cultures at the bakery!

Responding

Putting Words to Work

1. If you were a customer in a bakery, what would you buy? Why?
2. What ingredients would you use to make bread?
3. Before the dough is baked, bakers use their hands to _____.
4. Why do bakers need to read recipes?
5. PARTNER ACTIVITY: Think of a word you learned in the book. Explain its meaning to your partner and give an example.

Word Builder

A bakery is a kind of store. Make a chart that lists different kinds of stores. Write what people can buy in each one.

Kind of Store	What People Buy
bakery	baked goods

Write About It

Choose one of the stores from your chart. Write a paragraph that describes what you might see in the store. Tell what you would buy there.
